

MATTIS GILBERT

mattis.gilbert@sciencespo.fr ◇ Website

EDUCATION

Ph.D in economics - Sciences Po Paris & CREST	2022-present
Co-supervisors: Pierre Cahuc & Jean-Marc Robin
MRes Economics - Sciences Po Paris School of Research	2019-2021
Exchange Year - University of Glasgow	2018-2019
Bachelor of Arts (BA) - Sciences Po, Paris	2016-2019
Major in economics, minor in social sciences and humanities

EXPERIENCE

Research assistant - CREST	2021 - 2022
Pr. Roland Rathelot - Center for Research in Economics and Statistics

TEACHING

Economics of discrimination	2025
Teaching Assistant - Lecture by Pr. Montialoux Master 1 Spring semester
Probability and statistics	2022 - 2025
Seminar - Lecture by Pr. Robin Master 1 Fall semester
Statistics for Social Sciences (Advanced)	2022
Lecture Bachelor 1 Spring semester

WORK IN PROGRESS

Opportunity, taste or misinformation? How the unemployed choose which occupations to apply to (JMP)

How does providing labour-market information to employers at the job-posting stage change job postings and hiring outcomes? Experimental evidence from French employers. with Sebastian Butschek, Roland Rathelot, Andreas Steinmayr, Marina Schwab

Labor-Market Information, Job Postings, and Employer Beliefs: Experimental Evidence from Austria with Sebastian Butschek, Roland Rathelot, Andreas Steinmayr, Marina Schwab

Wishing to work more ? preferences, constraints, and hours worked with Naomi Cohen and Nicolas Ghio

SKILLS

Data analysis	R (advanced), Stata (intermediate)
Large data query	Dataiku, Hive, SQL (advanced) , SAS (intermediate)
Languages	French: Native English: C1 (IELTS 2019) German: beginner (B2)

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

Co-organizer of the Ph.D breakfast 2023-2025
Monthly sessions where faculty discussed a given theme with Ph.D students.

Tutoring: Les Cordés de la réussite 2016-2017
I was responsible for mentoring students from under-privileged high schools.

Other interests: Self-taught guitarist, self-taught cook, rock-climbing, fantasy novels.